COOLIDGE WINS FIRST TEST WITH CONGRESS

MATTER OF POLICY RESULTS IN FAIR COOLIDGE VICTORY

THIS WAS INTERPRETATION PUT TODAY ON ACTION OF REPUBLICAN CAUCUS

BY ALMOST UNANIMOUS VOTE GAVE TAX REDUCTION BILL RIGHT OF WAY OVER BONUS

(By United Press)

Congress Today
By United Press

Senate: Not in session.
House: Continues consideration of all interior department bills.
Committee on foreign affairs considers shipment of arms to Mexico.
Ways and means committee considers tax bill.
Agricultural committee considers farm relief.

Washington, Jan. 11.—President Coolidge's first test with congress on a matter of policy resulted in a complete victory for him.

This was the interpretation put today on the action of the house republican caucus which last night by almost unanimous vote gave tax reduction the right of way over the soldier bonus.

The caucus ordered the ways and means committee to report the Mellon tax reduction program to the house by February 1, and after that to take up the bonus bill.

Efforts of bonus advocates to win a more definite assurance when their measure would be reported were repulsed by the administration forces in the caucus. If the bonus advocates came to victory on anything it was when the caucus by a bare three votes, 97 to 94, refused to put house republicans on record as promising both bonus and tax legislation at this session.

There is now less assurance among bonus supporters that the soldier bonus can be passed over the president's veto. A week ago it seemed certain the bonus would sweep on before it and might even displace temporarily the tax program.

But administration leaders from President Coolidge down argued so strongly and the pressure from "back home" is so tremendous for tax reduction that there was never any question at last night's caucus but that President Coolidge's demand that tax come first would be satisfied.

Venizelos Will Form Government in Greece

(By United Press)
London, Jan. 11.—Eleutherios Venizelos, recalled to save Greece in her hour of crisis, has accepted an invitation of the regent to form a government, a dispatch from Athens said today.

The invitation came after three Venizelos lieutenants had failed in efforts to organize a cabinet, because of opposition to rival political groups.

LA FOLLETTE WILL SUPPORT BLAINE

(By United Press)
Madison, Wis., Jan. 11.—Governor John J. Blaine will have the support of Senator Robert M. La Follette for re-election and will head the La Follette progressive ticket in the state at the coming election, it was indicated today by Robert M. La Follette, Jr., chairman of the republican state central committee, who has just returned from Washington to begin a fight to capture the presidential delegates for Senator La Follette.

McLEAN ASKED A POSTPONEMENT IN TEAPOT DOME PROBE

(By United Press)
Palm Beach, Fla., Jan. 11.—Edward B. McLean, Washington financier and publisher, today asked postponement of his examination by Senator Walsh, Montana, regarding a loan of $100,000 McLean made to former Secretary of the Interior Albert D. Fall who leased the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve to the Sinclair oil interests.

McLean said he wished to consult his counsel, J. Wilton Lambert, of Washington, who arrived this morning on the same train with Walsh.

After McLean had consulted his counsel another delay also was asked to permit McLean to confer with former Secretary Fall, who is ill.

Senator Walsh granted the request, and the hearing is now scheduled to begin at 2 p. m. Walsh is considering calling Fall to testify regarding the loan he got from McLean.

TRAGEDY HITS ANOTHER HOME

WOMAN FORCED BY PIRITANO TO PREPARE LUNCH SUFFERS MENTAL DERANGEMENT

Bemidji, Jan. 11.—Leonard Pirritano and his dastardly crimes for which he was sentenced to life imprisonment in the state prison at Stillwater have become a matter of record to Bemidji citizens, but while the people of Bemidji and this section for the most part have passed over the incidents which so thoroughly aroused the populace during the man hunt for the Italian who took four lives in a single day north of Kelliher, one particular family closely concerned in the tragedies may never have an opportunity to forget Pirritano's brutality.

In the family of O. A. Boyd, a farmer and woodsman living about nine miles north of Kelliher in the same community where the killings took place another tragedy has just been brought to light, through which Mrs. Boyd may be a mental sufferer for the remainder of her life.

It develops that while Pirritano was at large and while the posse was scouring the woods in that vicinity for him, he forced his way into the home of Mrs. Boyd and under threat of death ordered her to prepare a lunch for him. Mrs. Boyd was alone in the house with two small babies, one but a few months old, and the incident has left its mark upon her. Since that time she has been a mental sufferer and her disarrangement has been growing worse instead of better, it is reported.

She was brought to Bemidji and is being cared for at the Lutheran hospital under the direction of County Physician Dr. E. W. Johnson and the county board. It is hoped that rest and proper care where she will be free from home worries will better her condition and that it will not be necessary to remove the mother from her family, for any great period of time.

FIVE NEGRO BANDITS GET $42,000 LOOT

(By United Press)
Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 11.—Five negro bandits held up two messengers of the Main Street bank here today and escaped with $42,000 in cash. C. J. Haake, cashier, and Frank H. Lodge, teller, were transporting the funds from the First National bank.

They had carried the funds to the front door of their own bank, which is located near the 19th street police station when the robbers attacked them.

The bandits escaped in a maze of traffic, driving past the union station near the scene of the holdup at high speed.

MAGNUS JOHNSON ASSAILS MELLON TAX REDUCTION

MINNESOTA FARMER SENATOR CONTINUES HIS FIGHT UNDAUNTED

PENNSYLVANIA BANKERS HISSED AND BOOED HIM WHEN HE ADDRESSED THEM

(By United Press)
Philadelphia, Jan. 11.—Senator Magnus Johnson, Minnesota, left here today for Washington to carry on his fight against the Mellon tax reduction program.

The Minnesota farmer senator was undaunted by the fact that last night when he addressed the Pennsylvania Bankers Association he was hissed, booed and heckled when he predicted the Mellon plan would never pass congress.

Seven hundred bankers of the state constantly interrupted Johnson during his one and one-half hour address with cries of "sit down" and "bring on the next speaker."

When the senator declared the Mellon plan would never pass because it favors the wealthy and did not help the men in moderate circumstances, the financiers booed and hissed for fully three minutes.

Johnson refused to be discouraged by his audience and stuck doggedly to his speech even though the going was hard. When he concluded the attitude of his audience had smoothed down, and he was applauded.

NORTHERN PACIFIC AND BURLINGTON MERGER IS URGED

(By United Press)

Washington, Jan. 11.—Dennis F. Lyons, counsel for the Northern Pacific railway, appearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission today at final hearings of the proposed consolidation of railroads into a limited number of systems declared the salvation of the Northern Pacific depended on its merger with the Burlington.

Lyons reviewed the long standing close relations between the two railroads and said both had expended great sums for improvement and betterments in reliance upon the permanency of their relations.

He opposed the merger of the Northern Pacific and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul "because they could not aid each other as neither has considerable traffic to give to the other and to put them together would tend to originate new business or promote any new industry."

"No one in his senses," Lyons said, "ever could have planned as one system the Northern Pacific and the St. Paul road between the Twin Cities and the Pacific coast. To have done so would have been conclusive proof of lunacy."

WAS CRACK GERMAN SPY IN WAR, CLAIM

(By United Press)
Chicago, Jan. 11.—Albert Langner, crack German spy during the world war, charged by police with being the brains of a small but daring band of criminals, was cross-examined today in the hope of recovering loot taken from several palatial homes here. Langner already has confessed to robbing the Lake Forest home of Clive Runnels, vice-president of the Pullman company, police announced.

Fred Deschart, another of the gang, also is in custody and a hunt is on for a character known as "Berlin Frank."

On the outskirts of the city Langner maintained a cache for the gang's loot, Deschart told police. He said he could not lead the way to the place.

OLD SCHOOL OF DIPLOMACY RULES IN LITTLE ENTENTE

(By United Press)
Belgrade, Jan. 11.—The little entente will "support currents tending to maintain treaties and the consolidation of peace."

Behind this communique reminiscent of its evasive generalities of old school diplomacy, which was issued today following the first meeting of foreign ministers of Yugoslavia, Roumania and Czechoslovakia, lies the direct implication to these countries' proposed alliance with France.

HEAVY SEAS ARE BREAKING WHERE ENGLISH SUB SANK

L-24 SANK YESTERDAY AFTER COLLISION, CARRYING 43 MEN TO THE DEPTHS

WAS RAMMED BY WARSHIP AND SANK INTO 30 FATHOMS OF WATER LIKE PLUMMET

(By United Press)

Portland, England, Jan. 11.—Heavy seas breaking over the spot where the British submarine L-24 sank yesterday after a collision, carrying 43 men to probable death, prevented divers from descending today to grapple for the lost craft.

Mine sweepers located a heavy object on the ocean bottom near the place where the submarine went down, rammed by the warship Resolution.

But, as though the sea was jealous of the victims it had claimed, the stormy swift waters raged in defiance of all efforts to send down rescuers.

The accident occurred in connection with the departure of a British cruiser squadron on a world tour. A similar one marked the start of such a tour two years ago in almost the same spot when the K-5 was lost. The Resolution rammed the L-24 as the submarine came to the surface nearly cutting the undersea craft in half.

Into thirty fathoms of water the submarine sank like a plummet.

Although the seas continued to hiss and roar over the submarine craft today, the wrecking ship Moorad stood by for the admiralty considered that the crew of the L-24 might remain alive 24 hours if safe in a compartment which the waters had not entered.

COL. SIMMONS AND CLARKE DROPPED FROM K. K. K.

(By United Press)
Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 11.—Colonel W. J. Simmons, founder, and E. Y. Clarke, former imperial wizard, were banished from the Ku Klux Klan today in a proclamation by Dr. H. W. Evans, imperial wizard, according to information made public here today by Clarke.

Clarke indicated he and Simmons had received copies of the proclamation signed by Dr. Evans and by 17 grand dragons of the "invisible empire" conferring in Washington. The conference has been in progress several days, an official in Clarke's office said.

INDIANA REPUBLICANS ARE FOR COOLIDGE

(By United Press)
Washington, Jan. 11.—William M. Butler, campaign manager for President Coolidge, was preparing a statement today announcing the complete harmony of Indiana republicans behind the Coolidge candidacy. The statement, it was indicated would be given out later today.

ELLY BASSETT IN SUPREME TEST, TO MEET HIS WIFE

MRS. BASSETT TELLS CLAMDIGER TO "SEE MY LAWYER"

BASSETT THEN CALLED UP HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW IN A SECOND ATTEMPT

Madison, Conn., Jan. 11.—Madison population—the whole thousand of it—was up bright and early today to witness the struggle of "Elly" Bassett who grew up a handy young man around the village, battle his way back into the confidence of his wife, who is the pride of the town girls' basketball team.

"Elly" as his home folks long have known him, is back after resigning his job as personal representative of Nina Wilcox Putnam, a job which brought from his wife this week the charge that he had left his family for the noted novelist.

After two unsuccessful attempts to see Mrs. Bassett last night and explain, "Elly" and his wife spent the night in adjoining homes along the Boston post road near the edge of this seaside village.

Mrs. Bassett remained with a girl friend and teammate on the girls' basketball team while Bassett was housed by his friend, Harrison Dowd, a writer, who also is a friend of Mrs. Putnam.

Among the first up in the village today was Bassett. He was ready for a fresh and supreme effort to see his wife today.

"I have come more than half way," he told the United Press this morning. "I have come nine-tenths of the way. I am prepared to come still further if she will forget the hideous falsehoods she has been hearing about Mrs. Putnam—and come a little of the distance herself."

"I think she will talk to me when we meet face to face. We need only a few words together. She will believe me."

When Bassett arrived last night his coming had been rumored through the village. His call at the post office where his wife works was the signal of many of the village folks turning out to greet him.

The attitude was that of friends who thought one of their number had pranked a bit and were interested in seeing how he made out with his best girl after a tiff.

After all, hadn't "Elly" grown up among them and of them, a lad who was father's helper in the clam digging?

True, Nina Wilcox Putnam also had grown up among them, but she had not mingled with them. She had grown away from them after she grew up. She is known rather as the "lady writer" more than "one of our girls."

But in the rear of the post office Mrs. Bassett was not conciliatory or jovial. She sent out word that she could not see her husband.

"Tell him," she said, "to see my lawyer, Judge Zachary."

Bassett called his mother-in-law, Mrs. C. Petri, on the telephone later in a second attempt. No, his wife was "out." No, he couldn't see the boy Adrian because "he is in bed."

RESIGNS AS BUSINESS REPRESENTATIVE

New York, Jan. 11.—Ellsworth Bassett today formally resigned as business representative for Nina Wilcox Putnam, noted author and short story writer, and immediately left New York for his home at Madison, Conn.

There he will seek a conference with Mrs. Bassett who charged that her husband "went away" with Mrs. Putnam after they had proposed to her that she divorce Bassett in order that he might marry the writer.

VETERANS BUREAU NOW RE-ORGANIZED ON BUSINESS BASIS

(By United Press)
Washington, Jan. 11.—The United States veterans bureau has been re-organized on "sound business principles" and is ready to get "down to work," General Frank T. Hines, director of the bureau, announced here today.

Sweeping administrative changes effective January 15, involving the shifting of some division heads and the possible curtailment of clerical personnel at a future date, were announced by Hines.

Under the new system major matters of planning and policy are entirely divorced from the problems of opinion. The re-organization was endorsed by the United States bureau of efficiency.

BODIES OF 6 IN LAKE TRAGEDY RECOVERED

DEATH CAR HOISTED FROM BOTTOM OF THE LAKE NEAR ALEXANDRIA

Alexandria, Minn., Jan. 11.—Bodies of the six persons who were drowned in Lake Andrews Tuesday night when an automobile being driven across the lake broke through the ice, were recovered late yesterday when searchers hoisted the tragedy machine from the bottom of the lake.

Five of the bodies, which apparently fell from the car when it was lifted by the rear end, were found close by, while the sixth lay about 30 yards away.

Discovery of the bodies of Mrs. Naomi Glade and her two small children and Mrs. Rollo Glade and her baby, five of the victims, close to each other indicated they evidently went down while in the machine, while the finding of Rudolph Wolfe's hat and coat, with his body about 30 yards from the others, showed that he had made a desperate fight to save himself.

Between 30 and 40 rescuers began searching yesterday for the bodies. A large hole was made in the ice, which was between eight and 10 inches thick about the spot where the car plunged through, and several boats were used. Heavy ropes and hooks were used to lift the car from the bottom. The bodies were removed to an undertaking establishment, where they are being held pending the arrival of relatives from other cities.

GREER HEARING IS ORDERED POSTPONED

(By United Press)
Los Angeles, Jan. 11.—Preliminary hearing of Horace A. Greer, haupteur for Mabel Normand charged with shooting Courtland S. Dines at a New Year's party, was today postponed for one week by Justice Walter S. Damd.

The court declared that if Dines and Miss Normand are still unable to appear next Friday he will convene court in the Good Samaritan hospital where the film star and Dines are convalescing.

WILLIAMSON COUNTY'S BOOZE WAR QUIESCENT

(By United Press)
Marion, Ill., Jan. 11.—With an agreement reached on liquor enforcement in general, Williamson county's "booze war" simmered down today to a fight between Glenn Young, "prohibition czar," and the forces of Sheriff George Calligan over raids on saloons and homes in the county.

Three companies of state troops are still stationed here and at Herbin.

Sheriff Calligan will not ask for their recall for a day or two, it was said.

SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE BRINGS MESSAGE

ADDRESSED CLOSING SESSION OF AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY AT ST. PAUL

ECONOMIC CONDITIONS IMPROVING AND FUTURE LOOKS BRIGHT

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Jan. 11.—Farmers have passed the worst depression and their condition is now improving.

This is the message Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace brought to St. Paul today.

He made a short address to the closing session of the Agricultural society at the capitol this morning and then hurried to the agricultural college where he was this afternoon to address the students, at the farmers and home makers short course.

Economic conditions throughout the country will improve and the prospect is bright for the future, he likened the conditions of the farmer to that of a person gone through a deep wood. The farmer is now past the middle of the wood and is slowly coming out into the light, he declared.

Work of the department of agriculture in aiding the farmers was explained. The department spends between $36,000,000 and $40,000,000 annually, he said, about half of it going to the work for the aid of the consumers and the other half to the farmers.

FARM HOME MAKERS SHORT COURSE NOW ON

St. Paul, Jan. 11.—Students at the farm and home makers short course at university farm concentrated their study on co-operative marketing today.

Examples studied were the California Fruit Growers Exchange, Raisin Growers' Association and the Minnesota Co-operative Creamery Association.

The first was stated as a loose federation, the second as a centralized organization and the third as a type of incorporated association found commonly in the northwest.

R. S. Vaile spoke and led the discussion. This afternoon proper dairy cow feeding was demonstrated by the Bemidji demonstration team—Theodore Fenske and Marsha Nugent—who won prizes in demonstrations at the state fair and national dairy show.

Howard Gore, assistant secretary of agriculture will talk tonight. The course closes tomorrow noon.

FARMERS NEAR CHICAGO IN MILK STRIKE

Beloit, Wis., Jan. 11.—Farmers in the vicinity of Genoa Junction today barricaded all roads leading to the Borden milk condenser in that place and refused to let daily men deliver milk to the factory.

Sheriff Hal Wylie, Walworth county, has been summoned by officials of the plant. No warrants had been sworn out at noon today, deputies at the sheriff's office in Elkhorn declared.

The Borden factory has been paying $2.60 a hundredweight for milk and one group of farmers demanded a price of $2.75.

It could not be learned early today whether the movement by the farmers was in connection with the Chicago milk strike.

JAP CROWN PRINCE TO WED JAN. 26

COOLIDGE WINS FIRST TEST WITH CONGRESS

MATTER OF POLICY RESULTS IN FAIR COOLIDGE VICTORY

THIS WAS INTERPRETATION PUT TODAY ON ACTION OF REPUBLICAN CAUCUS

BY ALMOST UNANIMOUS VOTE GAVE TAX REDUCTION BILL RIGHT OF WAY OVER BONUS

(By United Press)

Congress Today By United Press

Senate: Not in session.
House: Continues consideration of all interior department bills.
Committee on foreign affairs considers shipment of arms to Mexico.
Ways and means committee considers tax bill.
Agricultural committee considers farm relief.

Washington, Jan. 11.—President Coolidge's first test with congress on a matter of policy resulted in a complete victory for him.

This was the interpretation put today on the action of the house republican caucus which last night by almost unanimous vote gave tax reduction the right of way over the soldier bonus.

The caucus ordered the ways and means committee to report the Mellon tax reduction program to the house by February 1, and after that to take up the bonus bill.

Efforts of bonus advocates to win a more definite assurance when their measure would be reported were repulsed by the administration forces in the caucus. If the bonus advocates came to victory on anything it was when the caucus by a bare three votes, 97 to 94, refused to put house republicans on record as promising both bonus and tax legislation at this session.

There is now less assurance among bonus supporters that the soldier bonus can be passed over the president's veto. A week ago it seemed certain the bonus would sweep on before it and might even displace temporarily the tax program.

But administration leaders from President Coolidge down argued so strongly and the pressure from "back home" is so tremendous for tax reduction that there was never any question at last night's caucus but that President Coolidge's demand that tax come first would be satisfied.

Venezelos Will Form Government in Greece

(By United Press)

London, Jan. 11.—Eleutherios Venezelos, recalled to save Greece in her hour of crisis, has accepted an invitation of the regent to form a government, a dispatch from Athens said today.

The invitation came after three Venezelos lieutenants had failed in efforts to organize a cabinet, because of opposition to rival political groups.

McLEAN ASKED A POSTPONEMENT IN TEAPOT DOME PROBE

(By United Press)

Palm Beach, Fla., Jan. 11.—Edward B. McLean, Washington financier and publisher, today asked postponement of his examination by Senator Walsh, Montana, regarding a loan of $100,000 McLean made to former Secretary of the Interior Albert D. Fall who leased the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve to the Sinclair oil interests.

McLean said he would to consult his counsel, J. Wilton Lambert, of Washington, who arrived this morning on the same train with Walsh.

After McLean had consulted his counsel another delay also was asked to permit McLean to confer with former Secretary Fall, who is ill.

Senator Walsh granted the request, and the hearing is now scheduled to begin at 2 p. m. Walsh is considering calling Fall to testify regarding the loan he got from McLean.

But in the rear of the post office Mrs. Bassett was not conciliatory or jovial. She sent out word that she could not see her husband.

"Tell him," she said, "to see my lawyer, Judge Zachary."

Bassett called his mother-in-law, Mrs. C. Petri, on the telephone later in a second attempt. No, his wife was "out." No, he couldn't see the boy Adrian because "he is in bed."

RESIGNS AS BUSINESS REPRESENTATIVE

New York, Jan. 11.—Ellsworth Bassett today formally resigned as business representative for Nina Wilcox Putnam, noted author and short story writer, and immediately left New York for his home at Madison, Conn.

There he will seek a conference with Mrs. Bassett who charged that her husband "went away" with Mrs. Putnam after they had proposed to her that she divorce Bassett in order that he might marry the writer.

VETERANS BUREAU NOW RE-ORGANIZED ON BUSINESS BASIS

(By United Press)

Washington, Jan. 11.—The United States veterans bureau has been re-organized on "sound business principles" and is ready to get "down to work," General Frank T. Hines, director of the bureau, announced here today.

Sweeping administrative changes effective January 15, involving the shifting of some division heads and the possible entrenchment of clerical personnel at a future date, were announced by Hines.

Under the new system major matters of planning and policy are entirely divorced from the problems of opinion. The re-organization was endorsed by the United States bureau of efficiency.

BODIES OF 6 IN LAKE TRAGEDY RECOVERED

DEATH CAR HOISTED FROM BOTTOM OF THE LAKE NEAR ALEXANDRIA

Alexandria, Minn., Jan. 11.—Bodies of the six persons who were drowned in Lake Andrews Tuesday night when an automobile being driven across the lake broke through the ice, were recovered late yesterday when searchers hoisted the tragedy machine from the bottom of the lake.

Five of the bodies, which apparently fell from the car when it was lifted by the rear end, were found close by, while the sixth lay about 30 yards away.

Discovery of the bodies of Mrs. Naomi Glade and her two small children and Mrs. Rollo Glade and her baby, five of the victims, close to each other indicated they evidently went down while in the machine, while the finding of Rudolph Wolfe's hat and coat, with his body about 30 yards from the others, showed that he had made a desperate fight to save himself.

Between 30 and 40 rescuers began searching yesterday for the bodies. A large hole was made in the ice, which was between eight and 10 inches thick about the spot where the car plunged through, and several boats were used. Heavy ropes and hooks were used to lift the car from the bottom. The bodies were removed to an undertaking establishment, where they are being held pending the arrival of relatives from other cities.

GREER HEARING IS ORDERED POSTPONED

(By United Press)

Los Angeles, Jan. 11.—Preliminary hearing of Horace A. Greer, chauffeur for Mabel Normand charged with shooting Courtland S. Dines at a New Year's party, was today postponed for one week by Justice Walter S. Damd.

The court declared that if Dines and Miss Normand are still unable to appear next Friday he will convene court in the Good Samaritan hospital where the film star and Dines are convalescing.

WILLIAMSON COUNTY'S BOOZE WAR QUIESCENT

(By United Press)

Marion, Ill., Jan. 11.—With an agreement reached on liquor enforcement in general, Williamson county's "booze war" simmered down today to a fight between Glenn Young, "prohibition czar," and the forces of Sheriff George Calligan over raids on saloons and homes in the county.

Three companies of state troops are still stationed here and at Herlin.

Sheriff Calligan will not ask for their recall for a day or two, it was said.

SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE BRINGS MESSAGE

ADDRESSED CLOSING SESSION OF AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY AT ST. PAUL

ECONOMIC CONDITIONS IMPROVING AND FUTURE LOOKS BRIGHT

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Jan. 11.—Farmers have passed the worst depression and their condition is now improving.

This is the message Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace brought to St. Paul today.

He made a short address to the closing session of the Agricultural society at the capitol this morning and then hurried to the agricultural college where he was this afternoon to address the students, at the farmers and home makers short course.

Economic conditions throughout the country will improve and the prospect is bright for the future. He likened the conditions of the farmer to that of a person gone through a deep wood. The farmer is now past the middle of the wood and is slowly coming out into the light, he declared.

Work of the department of agriculture in aiding the farmers was explained. The department spends between $36,000,000 and $40,000,000 annually, he said, about half of it going to the work for the aid of the consumers and the other half to the farmers.

FARM HOME MAKERS SHORT COURSE NOW ON

St. Paul, Jan. 11.—Students at the farm and home makers short course at university farm concentrated their study on co-operative marketing today.

Examples studied were the California Fruit Growers Exchange, Raisin Growers' Association and the Minnesota Co-operative Creamery Association.

The first was stated as a loose federation, the second as a centralized organization and the third as a type of incorporated association found commonly in the northwest.

R. S. Vailie spoke and lead the discussion. This afternoon proper dairy cow feeding was demonstrated by the Bemidji demonstration team—Theodore Fenske and Marsha Nugent—who won prizes in demonstrations at the state fair and national dairy show.

Howard Gore, assistant secretary of agriculture will talk tonight. The course closes tomorrow noon.

FARMERS NEAR CHICAGO IN MILK STRIKE

Beloit, Wis., Jan. 11.—Farmers in the vicinity of Genoa Junction today barricaded all roads leading to the Borden milk condenser in that place and refused to let daily men deliver milk to the factory.

Sheriff Hal Wylie, Walworth county, has been summoned by officials of the plant. No warrants had been sworn out at noon today, deputies at the sheriff's office in Elkhorn declared.

The Borden factory has been paying $2.60 a hundredweight for milk and one group of farmers demanded a price of $2.75.

It could not be learned early today whether the movement by the farmers was in connection with the Chicago milk strike.

JAP CROWN PRINCE TO WED JAN. 26

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (coal oil.)

The inventor, J. E. Johnson, 609 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $20 to $500 per month.

U. C. T. MEN MEET

ON SATURDAY

Will Burn a Mortgage, Being an Old Indebtedness of the Council Recently Paid Up

COUNSELLOR GUSTAFSON

Will Preside at the Ceremonies, Many Visiting U. C. T. Men Expected for Occasion

In a letter sent all U. C. T. men of Brainerd Council, No. 545, Counsellor Charles W. Gustafson calls attention to the importance of attending the Saturday evening meeting, January 12, when the mortgage will be burned. The latter is an old indebtedness of the lodge which has eventually been paid, principal and interest, and the justification is to mark the consummation of this proceeding. Paying debts is sometimes a painful proceeding to all concerned, to the man paying and to the man waiting for his money, and in this instance both sides are extremely well satisfied that at last the final payment has been made.

The entertainment committee will report on entertainment plans and also provide a luncheon. An invitation had been extended Grand Counsellor T. I. Lewis of Moorhead to be present, but the last minute he was unable to come.

Quite a few of the traveling men have secured applicants for membership and the applications will be taken up at the meeting. The session starts promptly at 8 o'clock and after a short transaction of business, the social hour will get under full swing. The boys meet in Odd Fellows hall.

TIMELY ADDRESSES WERE PRESENTED

Whittier Parent-Teachers Association
Hears Dr. Joseph Nicholson,
City Health Officer

DEFENDS HEALTH MEASURES

Other Speakers Were Rev. E. A.
Cooke, Mrs. W. H. Gemmell and
Supt. W. C. Cobb

The Whittier Parent-Teachers Association held its monthly meeting on Tuesday evening. Two speakers presented some very pertinent thoughts to the parents assembled.

Dr. Joseph Nicholson, as city health officer, gave a timely address. He said that as a policeman protects law-abiding persons, so a health officer, by the quarantine, protects people in health from those carrying disease. The recent diphtheria epidemic, which was so quickly checked, showed that the quarantine was to be looked upon with favor, instead of being resisted.

The health department is looking for the time when the city will have quarters in which to keep and care for sick people who wish to save their families from being quarantined, or strangers who become ill while at a hotel or boarding house, where they cannot be kept or attention given them properly.

The doctor discussed the five most contagious diseases, small pox, diphtheria, scarlet fever, whooping cough and measles. He made a chart showing for each disease its period of incubation or development, the complications that may arise from it, and the prevention, if any. He condemned very strongly the parents who willfully expose their children to the so-called children's diseases. Whooping cough and measles may both lead to pneumonia and children should be protected from them.

The speaker further criticized the parents who send to school children who have these diseases. He named four easily procured preventatives of disease, plenty of fresh water for drinking and bathing, fresh air, nourishing food and sunshine. He commended the city nurse, Miss Eula Michael, on her work in educating the public along simple health lines through the school children.

Rev. E. A. Cooke spoke on the religious education law, recently passed by the state. Many other states already have such a law, permitting children to be excused from school a given number of hours per week, that they may receive religious instruction. Several churches of the city have already taken advantage of this law, and Rev. Cooke foretold great growth in this activity.

Religious educators have long realized that Sunday schools are inadequate. With their one hour or less per week, they are entirely unable to foster religious growth to the extent that the public schools care for the mental and physical development. The result is at present that general religious conceptions and activities are far below the mental and physical level in the average person.

Mrs. W. H. Gemmell praised the work of Dr. Nicholson and said that Brainerd has risen from a former position of shame with regard to health conditions, to a place of honor. She commended parents who have taken advantage of offers of free vaccination, and said that this vaccination of a number of children from time to time, would prevent a small pox epidemic. The board of education has seen fit to supply the bag of the health doctor and the city nurse with some salves and generally accepted applications, and the county commissioners have increased the allowance of the county nurse, so that she may more completely equip her emergency bag.

Supt. W. C. Cobb spoke on the Americanization class, that is being conducted in this city. Prospective citizens are taught reading, writing, spelling and elementary civics.

The following resolution was read and accepted by the association, and will be sent to the board of education:

That the board is requested to hasten preliminary work necessary as a pre-requisite to the submission of the question of the construction of a new high school building to the voters of the city, to be, if possible, submitted to the voters at the primary election held this coming spring.

The musical numbers were very graciously furnished for the program by a quartet from the high school. Those taking part were Miss Elizabeth Johnstone, accompanist, Miss Marion Opsahl, Miss Maysie Carmichael, Miss Dorothy Harris and Miss Myrtle Haake.

The program committee for the meeting in February is to consist of the teachers of the school.

The opening of the rink in Gregory park is being anxiously awaited by children of the ward, and the committee in charge will soon have things well under way.

SCOUT TROOP IN IRONTON

Boy Scout Executive Stimble and Commissioner Duerr Are Successful in Extension Work

E. W. Stimble, county executive of the Boy Scouts of America, and Robert Duerr, one of the council commissioners, were in Ironton Monday evening and met with the local Boy Scouts at the Ironton school. They helped the local scoutmaster, Frank J. Detinger, organize a second troop of scouts.

The boys have shown so much interest in the work and have turned out in such numbers that it has been found necessary to organize a new troop. Frank J. Detinger continues to act as scoutmaster of Troop No. 1 with Dr. H. A. Arneson as assistant, while R. G. Baldwin was chosen as scoutmaster of Troop No. 2, with A. W. Nelson as assistant.

Mr. Stimble gave a very interesting talk to the boys on the history and purposes of the Boy Scout movement.

The boys have received the new basketball ordered several weeks ago, and both troops have organized teams. The boys practice an hour at each meeting and they are planning on giving a series of basketball games during the winter.—Ironton News.

Changes in Business Policy

Many and far-reaching changes are today taking place in the policies upon which business is conducted. Most of the policies that have been in force for the past twenty-five years were based on the cardinal fact of a steadily rising market. Fluctuations were accepted as incidental and temporary; but the assurance of a general average tendency upward was the basis of every attitude that became formulated into a policy.

Recent changes in business policy—changes coming about with the past year or more—are based on the final acceptance of the fact that we have entered a period of a non-rising—in all likelihood a falling—market. So long as it was possible to assume that the new price levels represented but a temporary depression the old policies were bravely and tenaciously adhered to; but when it became clear that in all human probability the market would continue downward, then an adjustment of basic policies became imperative.

Chief among the policies that have necessarily been changed are those that relate to the creation of Demand.

Under the old policies a certain Demand was inevitable, and came to be accepted as a matter of course. It was the cardinal policy of almost every producer and distributor to attempt to capture a generous share of the existing Demand. Not a great deal of thought was given to creating Demand itself.

But now that the great Demand has relaxed until there is not enough to give everybody a liberal share, it has brought business to the imperative consideration of two things: One is how to get a full share of the Demand by taking it away from others by force of competition. The other is how to create more Demand, so there will be enough for all.

The great and imperative necessity of stimulating and creating Demand for the products of industry has at last given Advertising a position of importance in business policies far in excess of any that it has ever known.

HOW MANY READ IT?

How many read it last night? We refer to the original contract between the city of Brainerd and the Toltz Engineering company. It will be remembered that the Toltz company manufactured producer-gas to develop the electric current and after two years' experimentation the company went into receivership. Then the Cuyuna Range Power company made a contract with the city of Brainerd and accepted the Toltz contract with minor changes. About five years afterward, at the request of the city, the contract was amended to permit the city to use electric current 24 hours each day for operating pumps to deliver water. We have published the Toltz contract and tonight we publish the amendment relating to the pumping hours and the load factor. Tomorrow we will publish the new contract which the power company has agreed to accept, but which the city council refused to enter into.

The new agreement, proposed by the power company, gives the city a contract for a 15-year period as opposed to 10 years, which is the present renewal period. The city would also obligate itself to buy only one million k.w.h. per year, whereas now it has to buy all the current it uses; that is, under the new contract the city is free to purchase from others all in excess of one million k.w.h. or manufacture it. On the other hand, the power company would obligate itself to deliver all the current the city might demand. At the present time the demand is about two million k.w.h. per year.

Hereafter the city would supervise its own switchboard, which was planned to be erected at the new pumphouse, whereas at present, the supervision rests with the power company, at the local station of the power company.

In the old contract the rates vary according to the purpose for which the current is used, excepting that when current is used for pumping the load factor must be 75 per cent or better to obtain the lower rate. Under the new contract no distinction is made regarding the use of current, and the load factor basis is applied to the whole operation, and with each change of one per cent in load factor there is a change in the cost of the current. The new schedule provided, it is argued, is more favorable to the city than the old arrangement. The power company argues that not only was the renewal of the old contract carried out improperly a year ago, but that no contract now exists because the contract has been violated, because the city has not operated to produce a load factor of 75 per cent or better.

The highest rate in the new contract is 2.25 cents and the lowest rate is 1.5 cents. The old contract has a maximum of 2.375 cents, which applies to the first 800,000 k.w.h. and all the current in excess of that quantity costs 2 cents. The rate for pumping only is 1.5 cents, provided the load factor is 75 per cent or better. It is figured that the new contract would produce an average rate at least a trifle lower than the present contract rates produce as an average, and as the demand for current increases, the average rate becomes lower. The new contract has, however, this provision, that should it be necessary for the power company to generate part of its current by using steam plants during stages of low water, then the cost of such current would be distributed pro rata among all its consumers but at no time would such increase exceed 25 per cent, nor would the cost to Brainerd ever be greater than 2.25 cents, regardless of how much current would be developed by steam. Current is developed by steam during only a short period each year and the effect in increasing the average rate is slight.

MARY MCCOLL'S PICTURES

"Look here, on this picture, and on this!" In our enthusiasm over the paintings shown at the court house we find ourselves using the very words of Hamlet himself. The pictures are all so different, both in subject and technic, yet all are bound together with a certain quality, which amounts to a "family likeness." It has been said that art and conversation have this in common: they should both be instinctive, never forced. These pictures from the facile brush of Mary McColl seem to us to have this intrinsic attribute. There is a fresh naturalness about the canvasses, large and small, that constitutes the chief charm of the whole collection. This is evidently a "cradle gift" for her earliest work, a few specimens of which are shown, bear the same stamp of originality.

Mary McColl is a born artist, if ever there was one. Her earliest recollections as a child are of dancing shadows and billowy clouds, the varying shapes of trees athwart the sky. At the age of 10 years she definitely dedicated her life to art, and has consistently clung to her childhood ideal.

Unlike the English artist, Augustus John, Mary McColl can never truthfully be accused of intellectual laziness. There is much thought and a bit of herself in everything she paints, yet there is no straining after effect. Also she is a prodigious worker, and puts in hours of sheer labor that would shame the average worker.

The work of Miss McColl as instructor of art in the high schools of St. Louis has met with singular success. Quick she is to discover unusual talent, and some of her pupils have become veritable geniuses, notably Miss Gisella Loeffer, now well on the road to fame, and let us hope, to fortune also.

We are indeed proud that this collection of pictures has come to Brainerd. And it is our hope that this artist will again visit us and secure in the permanence of paint the ever changing but always beautiful local scenes she so desired to place on canvas.

WE beg Captain William H. Fawcett's pardon. We had it in type that Bill was down in Pinehurst, N. C., playing golf. Instead, he is shooting in the big trapshooting event and turning in most creditable scores. Captain Fawcett was a doubles champion in Minnesota a year ago.

THE PRETZEL EATING CONGRESSMAN

Washington—Above is pictured representative William M. Croll of Reading, Pa., who is known as the pretzel eating congressman. He represents a district where the famous pretzels are made by the thousands and he eats a daily lunch consisting in great part, of his favorite dish. Of course, in the good old days one never ate pretzels without washing 'em down with beer; but now—oh, well.

Miss Putnam Confined to Bed
 New York, Jan. 11.—Still confined to her bed, attended constantly by a nurse, with frequent calls from a physician, Nina Wilcox Putnam denied herself to all callers today.

In the meantime another high point in the unusual matrimonial and domestic triangle in which the noted writer is involved was about to be reached.

Ellsworth Bassett, Miss Putnam's business representative, reached New York from Florida and left to go to Madison, Conn., to face Mrs. Bassett who charged that her husband and Miss Putnam proposed that Bassett be given a divorce so that the writer might marry him. This is the charge coming on the heels of the Providence divorce complications which caused Miss Putnam to collapse.

After she vehemently denied the charge and maintained that her relations with Bassett were purely of a business nature, the writer was taken to her bed and is still in a serious condition.

The question of whether Nina Wilcox Putnam Sanderson "made an innocent or guilty mistake is not for the court to decide," Judge Chester W. Barrows declared in permanently vacating the novelist's divorce action in superior court at Providence.

A divorce was granted Mrs. Sanderson last week but the decree was recalled when charges were made that it was not properly obtained. The author wrote the court saying she acted in good faith but found she had been mistaken in length of residence she should show in Rhode Island before divorce suit could be brought.

"FLIVVER AIRPLANE" FLIER'S BODY FOUND

(By United Press)

London, Jan. 11.—A body believed to be that of the American aviator, Lawrence Sperry, who disappeared last month while attempting to fly his famous "flivver airplane" across the English channel, was washed ashore today near Rye, Sussex.

Sperry, celebrated for his stunts and experiments in the realm of aviation had been flying his baby airplane in England assisting in the political campaigns at the time of the general election. He decided upon crossing the channel and last was seen by a fisherman winging his way towards France high above the channel.

The next day records of the "flivver airplane," one of the smallest used in practical flight were picked up, but there was no trace of the aviator.

The spot where the body believed to be that of Sperry was washed ashore today is some distance to the eastward of where he made his flight, but the strong channel winds might have carried the body to and finally landing it on the Sussex coast.

HATS FOR SPRING

By HELEN ROSS

(Written for the United Press)

New York, Jan. 11.—Becoming things have a way of remaining in fashion long after the hour has struck for them to pass on.

Witness the choice. The little head-fitting hats that smart women have been wearing since early fall are still the hats most in favor.

The only variation in sight for spring is a smaller cloche than ever—a cloche with the rim knocked off, so to speak, or disguised with a small rolling brim.

Small turbans, with dangling metal trimmings, and the tri-corn hat—which inevitably followed the trend toward directorio frocks—are making a strong bid to transplant the cloche, however.

Hideous fashions, likewise, seldom remain "in" for any length of time, any more. The style that is really bizarre without being becoming is finding its tenure of life growing shorter and shorter.

One happy instance of this I witnessed on Fifth Avenue in the early fall. Coat with broad horizontal stripes, in violent browns and yellows, filled the streets a short time ago. Every third woman in New York looked like a sack of meal, or an overfed "potato bug."

Now you hardly see one. The horrid things vanished as if by a conspiracy for their suppression, in which even the Weather Man, dealing out balmy summer days, joined.

For all that Fashion has been pointing back to the directorio, what with gored flounces and drapes and one thing and another, women just will not return to fussy, flouncing styles.

Paris' ruling for 1924 is severe simplicity. American women have already taken it up.

Simple, three-piece tailored suits made of summer fabrics, as plainly cut as if for a boarding school miss or a business girl, are being worn now at all the resorts in the South.

Long, brilliant scarfs brighten the costume.

The Spider.

We gave some perfunctory admiration to the landscape, which is indeed only beautiful to those who admire land, and to them perhaps the most beautiful in England. For here is the body of the great chalk spider who straddles over our islands—whose legs are the south downs and the north downs and the Chilterns, and the tips of whose toes poke out at Cromer and Dover. He is a clean creature, who grows as few trees as he can, and those few in tidy clumps, and he loves to be tickled by quickly flowing streams. He is pimpled all over with earthworks, for from the beginning of time men have fought for the privilege of standing on him, and the oldest of our temples is built upon his back.—E. M. Forster, in "The Celestial Omnibus."

Palmettos Are Wise.

The palms are wise. They toll and spin and weave cloth that is well-nigh as fireproof as asbestos, and wrap themselves in it. Palmettos start up into sun and air, then, says Nature Magazine, as if they "smelled danger," they poke their noses—their pushing points of growth—back into the soil and send their roots on for twenty feet or more underground shooting up here and there clumps of glossy fingered leaves, with stems wrapped safely in their homemade vegetable asbestos. They have pines for neighbors and fires are frequent. Flames sweep the ground, climb in pillars of fire to the top of the pine. They leave the ground black and bare. But in a few weeks all is green again with the palms, whose underground roots and protected buds have suffered no harm.

HOW MANY READ IT?

How many read it last night? We refer to the original contract between the city of Brainerd and the Toltz Engineering company. It will be remembered that the Toltz company manufactured producer-gas to develop the electric current and after two years' experimentation the company went into receivership. Then the Cuyuna Range Power company made a contract with the city of Brainerd and accepted the Toltz contract with minor changes. About five years afterward, at the request of the city, the contract was amended to permit the city to use electric current 24 hours each day for operating pumps to deliver water. We have published the Toltz contract and tonight we publish the amendment relating to the pumping hours and the load factor. Tomorrow we will publish the new contract which the power company has agreed to accept, but which the city council refused to enter into.

The new agreement, proposed by the power company, gives the city a contract for a 15-year period as opposed to 10 years, which is the present renewal period. The city would also obligate itself to buy only one million k.w.h. per year, whereas now it has to buy all the current it uses; that is, under the new contract the city is free to purchase from others all in excess of one million k.w.h. or manufacture it. On the other hand, the power company would obligate itself to deliver all the current the city might demand. At the present time the demand is about two million k.w.h. per year.

Hereafter the city would supervise its own switchboard, which was planned to be erected at the new pumphouse, whereas at present, the supervision rests with the power company, at the local station of the power company.

In the old contract the rates vary according to the purpose for which the current is used, excepting that when current is used for pumping the load factor must be 75 per cent or better to obtain the lower rate. Under the new contract no distinction is made regarding the use of current, and the load factor basis is applied to the whole operation, and with each change of one per cent in load factor there is a change in the cost of the current. The new schedule provided, it is argued, is more favorable to the city than the old arrangement. The power company argues that not only was the renewal of the old contract carried out improperly a year ago, but that no contract now exists because the contract has been violated, because the city has not operated to produce a load factor of 75 per cent or better.

The highest rate in the new contract is 2.25 cents and the lowest rate is 1.5 cents. The old contract has a maximum of 2.375 cents, which applies to the first 800,000 k.w.h. and all the current in excess of that quantity costs 2 cents. The rate for pumping only is 1.5 cents, provided the load factor is 75 per cent or better. It is figured that the new contract would produce an average rate at least a trifle lower than the present contract rates produce as an average, and as the demand for current increases, the average rate becomes lower. Nanook of the North

"Nanook of the North," Pathe picture, which will be shown at the Lyceum Theatre by the Whittier-Lincoln Parent-Teachers Associations Wednesday and Thursday of next week, was made for Revillon Freres by Robert J. Flaherty. Mr. Flaherty made five expeditions, covering the Ungava Peninsula and parts of Baffin's Land, guided by Eskimos. He accompanied them as they traveled with their families, winter and summer, subsisting wholly upon their catches of fish, seals and walrus; sheltered by their tents of skin in summer and their snow igloos in winter, built at the end of a day of dog-sledge travel, the spirit thermometers registering 54 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit.

BILLIE DOVE SUPPORTING TOM MIX in SOFT BOILED ~ WILLIAM FOX Special Production ~

In presenting Tom Mix in a role unlike any in which he has ever appeared, William Fox also has produced the famous film star's first special attraction, in "Soft Boiled," which opens at the Lyceum Theatre on Sunday for three days. The very title, in connection with Tom Mix, sounds paradoxical and it is. The handy-dandy westerner quits fighting, for one thing. He abandons chaps and sombrero for second-hand checks and then, he wears horn-rimmed spectacles.

A rollicking love story forms the basis of "Soft Boiled," with Billie Dove playing opposite Tom Mix. Miss Dove, appearing in the big beauty chorus, has originated some remarkable new dance steps.

"Potash and Perlmutter" is Greatest Comedy Made

It is a rare occasion when everybody agrees on anything—for human nature is perverse. But nobody has been discovered to date who does not agree that "Potash and Perlmutter," which will be shown at the New Park on Saturday and Sunday, is the greatest comedy filmed.

Mawruss Perlmutter says: "Seven dollars and twenty cents for a dinner? What does our salesman eat—goldfish?"

"Of course my partner couldn't consult me. He's everything. I'm nothing. He's the dog and I'm the tail."

"Abe, I give you my word. A partner like you is around a man's neck a tombstone!"

"Another new dress for Irma? Who are you—Mr. Vanderbilt? And so particular she takes it. Seven fittings for every dress."

"You're my friend, Abie, and I love you like my own brother. I can roast you—that's a partner's privilege—but I wouldn't allow anybody else to do it."

John Gilpin.

John Gilpin was a London linen draper and train band captain, whose amusing adventures are related by Cowper in his ballad entitled "The Diverging History of John Gilpin. Showing How He Went Further Than He Intended and Came Safe Home Again." The original of the poem is said to have been a Mr. Bayer or Beyer, a famous linen draper, whose establishment was on Paternoster row, where it joins Cheapside. The story was related to Cowper by Lady Austen (who remembered it from her childhood) to divert the poet from his melancholy. The poem first appeared in 1782, and was afterward included in the second volume of Cowper's works.

INSTITUTE AT 1ST BAPTIST CHURCH

Held in Interests of Religious Education, Convening Afternoon and Evening Today

JAMES C. GARRISON SPEAKER

Also Miss Mabel L. Bailey—Sunday School Workers, Pastors, Teachers, Parents Invited

An institute in the interests of religious education will be held in Brainerd on Friday, January 11th, in the First Baptist church. There will be an afternoon and an evening session, at 3 o'clock and 7:30 respectively.

Two representatives of the Minnesota council of religious education will be in attendance, Miss Mabel L. Bailey and James C. Garrison, which is sufficient guarantee of the excellence of the program.

There will be discussions of the enlarged program of religious education as it deals with the home, the church, the school and the community.

Sessions will open promptly and all workers in the Sunday schools, pastors, public school teachers, parents interested in a more adequate program of religious education are invited and urged to attend these meetings.

Invisible Light for Signaling.

The use of invisible light for signaling purposes was recently demonstrated before the Physical Society of London. The first machine shown, it appears, was a signaling lamp that gave a beam of light so narrow that in many circumstances it would insure secrecy. When it becomes desirable, in warfare, to avoid showing any light whatever filters are employed to cut out the visible spectrum. By day a deep red filter, transmitting only the extreme red rays of light, is placed in front of the lamp. The light is invisible to the observer unless he has a similar red screen to cut out the daylight. With the screen he can see enough to read signals at a distance of six miles. By night a screen is used that transmits only the ultra-violet rays of light.

In His Element.

A gentleman rancher fell in love with a society girl from the East who was visiting at the adjacent ranch. It was decided to have the wedding in a little town nearby. Many fashionable folks came to attend. The foreman of the groom's ranch was to be head usher. The evening of the wedding found him on hand very ill at ease in a dress suit. His duties were explained to him and he was told that it was important to seat the friends of the groom on one side of the church, the friends of the bride on the other. On hearing this he cheered up visibly and sent for his revolver. The groom asked him what on earth that meant.

"Why," said the foreman, "I see you expect a fight."

Size of the Ostrich.

When the baby ostrich emerges from his shell to view the world he is no tiny specimen, but is quite as big as a full-grown American hen. During the early months of his life he grows at a tremendous rate, averaging a full foot a month, till one finds him, at the age of six months, six feet tall. This, you will realize, is taller than the average man.

Often the ostrich grows to a height beyond that of the common Indian pony or polo pony. When fully grown the ostrich weighs from 150 to 400 pounds, depending on its breeding and handling. It is, of course, the long legs of the ostrich which extend his height. They are very strong and swift for sprinting.

In the Dark.

There were three at the little table in the cafe, a girl and two men. Suddenly the lights went out and the girl drew back quickly.

An instant later there was the smack of a compound kiss. As the lights went up each man was seen smiling complacently.

"I thought I heard a kiss," said the girl, "but nobody kissed me."

Then the men glared at each other and flushed.—Minneapolis Tribune.

"From Dan to Beersheba."

The familiar expression "From Dan to Beersheba" originally was used to denote the entire extent of the holy land, and afterward applied to any region when referring to its whole length, says the Detroit News. Dan was the most northern city in the "land of promise" and Beersheba the most southern one; hence the saying "From Dan to Beersheba" came to mean the entire extent of the country.

It's a Queer World.

An old man stood up and asked if it were true that Scotland got £40,000 for an education grant and £50,000 for the maintenance of the volunteers. The candidate said it was, to which the old fellow replied: "Eh, mon, it's something awfu' that the government should waste £40,000 trying to put brains in and then squander £10,000 trying to blow brains out! It's a queer world we live in!"

Bemidji Board Invites Local Board to Send Representatives to Veterans Bureau Program

TWO DELEGATES ARE CHOSEN

Committee on Fuel to Advise For 250 Cords of Green Wood

The board of education of the Brainerd independent school district met on Monday evening, in the first meeting of the new year. All members were present except Fred Drexler and K. S. Bredenberg.

A communication was read from the Bemidji board of education, announcing the week of instruction under the Veterans Bureau program, which will be held in that city on January 16th, 17th and 18th, and to which representatives from Brainerd are invited. The instruction is to be held in the Bemidji Civic & Commerce Association rooms, which organization is taking an unusual interest in the veteran's bureau work, and is being fostered by that civic club, the farm bureau and the local Elks club.

To this Bemidji conference the Brainerd board of education chose J. I. Swedberg, chief veterans instructor under the local project, and if possible L. F. Hohman, secretary of the board, as delegates to attend as representatives from Brainerd.

The committee on fuel, supplies and printing was authorized to advertise for approximately 250 cords of green wood, of which 200 cords is to be poplar and jack pine, and 50 cords of hardwood. The latter is to be used in the furnaces at the Riverside and Garfield schools. The committee was given full power to open bids and award contracts for this wood.

The finance committee made a number of recommendations in regard to school accounting and business managements. The schools, it is pointed out, have developed into a very large business, that requires a complete system to properly care for it. The report, with minor modifications, was accepted. On motion the superintendent was authorized to make purchases of text books and supplies for office use upon the O. K. of the secretary.

Superintendent Cobb made his monthly report on the condition of the bookroom, for December, which was accepted and placed on file.

The building committee made a detailed report on work which has been done recently and which is to be done in the near future. This report will be printed elsewhere in the Dispatch.

The report of the auditing committee on the treasurer's books for the quarter ending October 31st, and showing the condition of the sinking fund, was submitted. The audit was found to be correct and the report accepted.

A resolution was received from the parent-teachers association of the Lincoln building, asking that the board provide more play ground for the children attending that school. The resolution stated that there are now 300 children attending that building with only a half block of playground. The resolution was referred to the building committee.

The committee on fuel, supplies and printing recommended that the balance of the wood as contracted for with the Mahlum Lumber Co., in the winter of 1922-23 at $4.45 per cord, be delivered. The recommendation was accepted and placed on record.

A report was read from the board members of the third ward in regard to securing assistance for the janitor of the Lowell building. The services of Mrs. Erickson, the janitor's wife, have been obtained to assist during the months from December 22nd, 1923 to about May 1st, 1924, at $25 per month.

The committee on the Veterans Bureau reported on fixing the rate per mile to be allowed instructors of the veterans. This mileage was placed at 8c per mile, which the committee believes will cover all running expenses of cars used by the instructors, and limited the mileage of each instructor to 1500 miles per month, except in unusual cases. If instructors are compelled to use the railroads when highways are impassable, other arrangements will be worked out for covering the mileage.

A communication was read from the Travelers Insurance Co., reporting on recent external inspection of all school boilers, stating that they were found in good working condition.

The secretary was permitted to draw warrants for $251.61 in favor of S. R. Adair, county treasurer, this

MUTUAL FIRE INS. CO.

Twentieth Annual Meeting Held in Deerwood on Tuesday, January 8th

1124 POLICIES ARE CARRIED

Fifteen Losses in 1923 Amounting to $7,513.12, One Resisted by Company

The Klondike Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Company held its 20th annual meeting on Tuesday, January 8th, at Deerwood. The meeting was well attended and the secretary's report showed a steady increase of business during the past year.

There are 1124 policies, with insurance in force amounting to $2,333,604. This is divided as follows: Crow Wing county, $758,964; Aitkin county, $1,534,558; Cass county, $3,325, and Mille Lac county, $36,757.

The total receipts for the year, including a cash balance from 1922 is $12,061.61. Losses paid during the past year, $5,414.64, running expenses for the year, $2,034.40, a total of $7,449.04, leaving a balance of $4,612.57.

The report shows that there have been fifteen losses during 1923, amounting in all to $7,513.12. Of this, one was resisted by the company and two remained unpaid at the end of the year.

The following were elected as the board of directors for the coming year: Fred J. Winquist, Rt. 1 Deerwood; Carl A. Nelson, Rt. 1 Deerwood; Gust Olander, Star Route Deerwood; John Franz, Rt. 3 Aitkin; Edward Strombeck, Rt. 2 Aitkin; John Nelson, Rt. 1 Deerwood and C. F. Peterson Rt. 3 Aitkin.

These directors named the following officers:

President—Gust Olander.
Vice President—John Nelson.
Secretary-Treasurer—Fred J. Winquist.

Fred J. Winquist was also voted delegate to the convention of mutual insurance companies at St. Paul in January. Several changes were made in the company's by-laws. The new board will hold its first meeting on Saturday, January 19th, 2 p. m., at Deerwood.

being the amount of money retained from teachers salaries to January 1st, and being the first half of the payment due on teachers insurance and retirement fund for the school term of 1923-24.

A large list of current bills was allowed, and the board adjourned at about 12:30, this being one of the longest meetings of the year.

Recording Secretary—Kathleen Early.

Mistress-at-Arms—Louise Murphy.

Sentinel—Ellen Ryan.

Chairman of Standing Committee—Anna Smith.

Treasurer—Elizabeth McGivern.

Kathleen Early thanked the order for their wonderful co-operation while she was President and urged that each present member bring in a new member for 1924.

Della Batchelder upon taking her new post as President gave her hopes for the good and welfare of the order for 1924. She made a plea for co-operation and support of members in providing more entertainment for the young people of the members of the order.

The entertainment committee, Mesdames Blanche White, Johanna Russell, Ellen Ryan and Louise Murphy had cards for the social hour. The committee showed their loyalty support and good spirit by presenting beautiful corsage bouquets of roses and ferns to Mesdames Kathleen Early, Kate O'Connor, Celia Rowley and Miss Bess Murphy in appreciation of their work in the order for the last year.

A most delicious lunch was served. All had a most enjoyable time and voiced the general opinion of being out for every meeting of 1924 beginning with the one Tuesday, January 22nd.

MEMORANDUM

OF AGREEMENT

As Made August 7, 1917 by and Between City and Cuyuna Range Power Company

PUMPING CHANGES MADE

Current For Pumping Purposes, Load Factors of Motors Operating Pumps

The Dispatch yesterday published the original power contract and today presents this "memorandum of agreement":

This memorandum of agreement made or entered into this 7th day of August, 1917, by and between the City of Brainerd, a Municipal Corporation, of the County of Crow Wing and State of Minnesota, party of the first part, hereinafter called the City, and the Cuyuna Range Power Company, a Minnesota corporation, in the second part, hereinafter called the Company.

WITNESSETH: WHEREAS the said City and the said Company did on the twelfth (12) day of November, 1910, enter into a written contract dated, signed, and delivered on said day, by the terms of which contract and the said Company was to furnish to the said City electric current under the terms, conditions and payments expressed in said contract and which contract is here referred to and made a part and consideration of this further agreement.

NOW, THEREFORE, it is agreed by and between the parties hereto, that the extreme right hand two words of the eighth (8) line of paragraph twelve (12) of said original agreement and all other and further words, lines and figures contained in said paragraph twelve (12) be stricken out of said original contract; and that from and after the date hereof said words, lines and figures to be so stricken out be of no force or effect whatever; and that the said words so stricken out of said paragraph twelve (12) of said original contract are as follows, to-wit:

"Said pumping to be done between the hours of eleven (11) o'clock p. m. and seven (7) o'clock p. m. from the fifteenth (15) day of March to the fifteenth (15) day of October; and between the hours of eleven (11) o'clock p. m. and five (5) o'clock p. m. from the fifteenth (15) day of October to the fifteenth (15) day of March."

It being understood and agreed to by this agreement that said Company will furnish said City with electric current for pumping purposes as provided in said paragraph twelve (12) after the aforesaid words have been stricken out, and it is understood between the parties hereto that the load factor of the motors operating the City pumps shall not be less than seventy-five (75) per cent except at such times as it is necessary to operate pumps because of fires or other emergency.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, both parties hereto have caused these presents to be executed by its duly authorized officers and their corporate seal to be hereto attached, this 7th day of August 1917.

Signed, sealed and delivered in the presence of Jennie Nelson, S. Nelson.

Masterpieces of the Screen

How many times have you expressed a desire to see one or more of the masterpieces of the screen a second time? Or how many of these masterpieces have you missed seeing altogether? By special request the Lyceum theatre is bringing back seven of the greatest photo-plays ever filmed and will show them one day each, during "Old Favorites Week," at popular prices.

January 20th to 26th inclusive has been designated as "Old Favorites Week" at the Lyceum, and the following recognized wonder-pictures will be shown: Sunday, D. W. Griffith's ever popular masterpiece, "The Birth of a Nation"; Monday, "The Miracle Man"; Tuesday, Griffith's "Way Down East"; Wednesday, Rudolph Valentino in "The Sheik"; Thursday, John Gilbert in "The Count of Monte Cristo"; Friday, Vera Gordon, in the picture that gripped the great heart of America, "Humoresque"; and Saturday, Douglas Fairbanks, in what is considered the best picture he has ever made, "The Mark of Zorro."

Here are assembled in one week's showing at the Lyceum, the seven pictures that have made screen history, and a big majority of theatre-goers have shown a desire to review them time and time again. It is expected that this theatre will do a turn-away business during "Old Favorites Week." It is certain that no greater assemblage of super-plays has ever been offered in Brainerd in any one week, as will be seen between January 20th and 26th.

W. R. Hiller, manager of this theatre, states that his company of Duluth has purchased the new current Paramount pictures for an early showing at the Lyceum, in addition to several big William Fox specials, which will have their premier showing in Brainerd at the Lyceum. The latter includes the great A. S. M. Hutchinson novel, "Half Winter Comes," rated by critics as the second best photo play produced in 1923. Several local people have already seen this picture, and are loud in its praise. It comes to the Lyceum for a three-day showing, January 27, 28 and 29.

Another big new special feature picture is a nine-reel whirlwind, with Tom Mix causing most of the action, in his first big comedy, "Soft Boiled." This opens at the Lyceum this coming Sunday. It is claimed that there is a laugh and a thrill in every foot of all nine reels.

Among other early Lyceum book-ings appear such names as Wm. S. Hart, in his first new Paramount picture since his return to the screen, "Wild Bill Hickok," and Rex Beach's wonderful story, "Big Brother." This is the pet picture of such civic welfare organizations as the Lions and Rotary clubs, since it gives the general public a good insight into just the kind of work these clubs are endeavoring to accomplish. It is said that the acting of Mickey, the boy in this Paramount special, eclipses anything yet attempted by a juvenile actor. It is hoped that the local civic clubs will get behind "Big Brother" 100 per cent, since it will create a great deal of favorable comment and give the public a better understanding of what is being done in these organizations.

Other January and February book-ings at the Lyceum are "Nanook of the North," the Eskimo picture which is being shown on January 16th and 17th, under the auspices of the Washington-Lincoln Parent Teachers Association. This is without question the greatest screen novelty ever filmed, being actually photographed in the Arctic circle, and depicts actual Eskimo life.

There comes Dorothy Dalton in "Dark Secrets," Agnes Ayres in "Racing Hearts," Tom Mix in another thriller, "Mile-a-minute Romeo," Hoot Gibson in "Blinky" and others that will grace the Lyceum screen during the next few weeks.

Bemidji Board Invites Local Board to Send Representatives to Veterans Bureau Program

TWO DELEGATES ARE CHOSEN

Committee on Fuel to Advise For 250 Cords of Green Wood

The board of education of the Brainerd independent school district met on Monday evening, in the first meeting of the new year. All members were present except Fred Drexler and K. S. Bredenberg.

A communication was read from the Bemidji board of education, announcing the week of instruction under the Veterans Bureau program, which will be held in that city on January 16th, 17th and 18th, and to which representatives from Brainerd are invited. The instruction is to be held in the Bemidji Civic & Commerce Association rooms, which organization is taking an unusual interest in the veteran's bureau work, and is being fostered by that civic club, the farm bureau and the local Elks club.

To this Bemidji conference the Brainerd board of education chose J. I. Swedberg, chief veterans instructor under the local project, and if possible L. F. Hohman, secretary of the board, as delegates to attend as representatives from Brainerd.

The committee on fuel, supplies and printing was authorized to advertise for approximately 250 cords of green wood, of which 200 cords is to be poplar and jack pine, and 50 cords of hardwood. The latter is to be used in the furnaces at the Riverside and Garfield schools. The committee was given full power to open bids and award contracts for this wood.

The finance committee made a number of recommendations in regard to school accounting and business managements. The schools, it is pointed out, have developed into a very large business, that requires a complete system to properly care for it. The report, with minor modifications, was accepted. On motion the superintendent was authorized to make purchases of text books and supplies for office use upon the O. K. of the secretary.

Superintendent Cobb made his monthly report on the condition of the bookroom, for December, which was accepted and placed on file.

The building committee made a detailed report on work which has been done recently and which is to be done in the near future. This report will be printed elsewhere in the Dispatch.

The report of the auditing committee on the treasurer's books for the quarter ending October 31st, and showing the condition of the sinking fund, was submitted. The audit was found to be correct and the report accepted.

A resolution was received from the parent-teachers association of the Lincoln building, asking that the board provide more play ground for the children attending that school. The resolution stated that there are now 300 children attending that building with only a half block of playground. The resolution was referred to the building committee.

The committee on fuel, supplies and printing recommended that the balance of the wood as contracted for with the Mahlum Lumber Co., in the winter of 1922-23 at $4.45 per cord, be delivered. The recommendation was accepted and placed on record.

A report was read from the board members of the third ward in regard to securing assistance for the janitor of the Lowell building. The services of Mrs. Erickson, the janitor's wife, have been obtained to assist during the months from December 22nd, 1923 to about May 1st, 1924, at $25 per month.

The committee on the Veterans Bureau reported on fixing the rate per mile to be allowed instructors of the veterans. This mileage was placed at 8c per mile, which the committee believes will cover all running expenses of cars used by the instructors, and limited the mileage of each instructor to 1500 miles per month, except in unusual cases. If instructors are compelled to use the railroads when highways are impassable, other arrangements will be worked out for covering the mileage.

A communication was read from the Travelers Insurance Co., reporting on recent external inspection of all school boilers, stating that they were found in good working condition.

The secretary was permitted to draw warrants for $251.61 in favor of S. R. Adair, county treasurer, this

MUTUAL FIRE INS. CO.

Twentieth Annual Meeting Held in Deerwood on Tuesday, January 8th

1124 POLICIES ARE CARRIED

Fifteen Losses in 1923 Amounting to $7,513.12, One Resisted by Company

The Klondike Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Company held its 20th annual meeting on Tuesday, January 8th, at Deerwood. The meeting was well attended and the secretary's report showed a steady increase of business during the past year.

There are 1124 policies, with insurance in force amounting to $2,333,604. This is divided as follows: Crow Wing county, $758,964; Aitkin county, $1,534,558; Cass county, $3,325, and Mille Lacs county, $36,757.

The total receipts for the year, including a cash balance from 1922 is $12,061.61. Losses paid during the past year, $5,414.64, running expenses for the year, $2,034.40, a total of $7,449.04, leaving a balance of $4,612.57.

The report shows that there have been fifteen losses during 1923, amounting in all to $7,513.12. Of this, one was resisted by the company and two remained unpaid at the end of the year.

The following were elected as the board of directors for the coming year: Fred J. Winquist, Rt. 1 Deerwood; Carl A. Nelson, Rt. 1 Deerwood; Gust Olander, Star Route Deerwood; John Franz, Rt. 3 Aitkin; Edward Strombeck, Rt. 2 Aitkin; John Nelson, Rt. 1 Deerwood and C. F. Peterson Rt. 3 Aitkin.

These directors named the following officers:

President—Gust Olander.
Vice President—John Nelson.
Secretary-Treasurer—Fred J. Winquist.

Fred J. Winquist was also voted delegate to the convention of mutual insurance companies at St. Paul in January. Several changes were made in the company's by-laws. The new board will hold its first meeting on Saturday, January 19th, 2 p. m., at Deerwood.

being the amount of money retained from teachers salaries to January 1st, and being the first half of the payment due on teachers insurance and retirement fund for the school term of 1923-24.

A large grist of current bills was allowed, and the board adjourned at about 12:30, this being one of the longest meetings of the year.

FIVE RING CHAMPS TO PASS IN 1924

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Jan. 11.—Several young men who were sitting high and handsome this time last year as ring champions are now members in good standing of that widely represented "Once Was" club.

Several of the young men who are now out in front have been proposed for membership in the "Has Beens" and they'll be eligible for admission before another year rolls around.

If for no other reason than there is a potent law of average that does tricks, five and maybe more champions will pass out in 1924.

This is only a guess, and it's not worth more than any guess.

Five world's champions slipped away in 1923 and the same number are dangerously near the slide this year, because they seem to lack the class to hold them up against stiff competition.

Jack Dempsey, Benny Leonard and Mickey Walker will not lose their titles this year.

Dempsey and Leonard are too good to be in danger from any opponent they may have to meet, and Walker is safe because he will not take a chance.

Mike McTigue is sure to lose the light-heavyweight championship the first time he meets a good contender.

Harry Greb is slipping and he will have more trouble making the middleweight limit as he grows older.

Johnny Dundee will lose the featherweight championship because he has gone back greatly and age is beginning to show on him.

Joe Lynch, the worst of all the title holders, will lose the bantamweight championship, if he can be forced to meet a good contender.

Pancho Villa will drop the flyweight championship because he is getting too heavy for the class and he is none too safe as he is now.

Dempsey will not defend his title more than two times because the purses that he would receive in three big fights would put him in a class in the income tax law where he would have to turn over to the government practically all of the purse of his third fight.

It was this little tax difficulty that forced Dempsey to call off the year's activity last year after the Firpo fight.

KANE TELLS TEX TOM WILL TAKE THEM ALL ALIKE

New York, Jan. 11.—Tommy Gibbons is ready to eliminate all obstructions in the path of his chase after Jack Dempsey for another shot at the heavyweight championship. Eddie Kane, manager of the St. Paul boxer, arrived here and had a talk with Tex Rickard in hopes of arranging some sort of a row for Thomas shortly. The conference did not get anywhere, however, and they are going to try to agree on some plan or other today.

Following his talk with the big promoter, the boss of the Gibbons' interests declared Tommy stood ready to take them all alike. The candidates mentioned by Kane include Gene Tunney, Jack Renault, Mike McTigue and Georges Carpentier. "HOMERUN" BAKER IS RELEASED BY YANKS

New York, Jan. 11.—The name of J. Franklin "Home Run" Baker, famous for more than a decade as a slugger and third baseman, was scratched yesterday from American league rolls when the New York Yankees announced his unconditional release.

Roper Announces His Resignation After '24

Princeton, N. J., Jan. 11.—The resignation of William W. "Bill" Roper as head coach of the Princeton university football team, effective at the end of the 1924 football season, was announced here yesterday.

The statement was made by Dr. Charles W. Kennedy, chairman of the board of athletic control. A letter from Roper before Christmas said he would have to discontinue coaching because of the urgent duties of the law profession.

LIGHTS AND SHADOWS IN THE SPORTS WORLD

LIVELY COMMENT BY THE DISPATCH SPORTS EDITOR

The Brainerd high school basketball quint will battle Little Falls high school on their home floor this evening. There is always a promise of a great battle when these two teams clash as they are rivals from the word go.

Fred Fulton steps right out and boldly announces that he will kazo Tiny Herman tonight. "Wonder if Fred has considered Tiny in the matter?" asks Charles Johnson, prominent sports writer.

Frank (Home Run) Baker, who was in the spotlight in his younger days, has been released by the New York Yankees. When he was on Connie Mack's $100,000 infield he was known the country over as the "Home Run King," but since those days Babe Ruth has carried away these laurels.

Georges Carpentier, the one-time French idol, has turned down the offer to fight Tommy Gibbons in Minneapolis next summer. The Northwest would like to see a go between these two men, but Carp is not going to take any chances with Tommy until he has accumulated a little easy cash that's rolling around this country.

Mickey Walker, welterweight champion of the world, will appear in a four-round bout on the big testimonial boxing card to be staged for the family of the late Billy Miske at the St. Paul auditorium next Tuesday night. He tendered his services gratis to the committee in charge of the big show.

Mickey Walker ranks as one of the best welterweight champions the division has ever boasted of. It will be the first opportunity that fists fans of the northwest have had to see Britton's conqueror in action.

Walker's willingness to travel half way across the continent to box for nothing is merely another indication of the high esteem in which Billy Miske was held by members of his profession.

High School Basketball Team To Little Falls

The high school basketball team went to Little Falls on the afternoon train, where they will clash with the team of that high school this evening. The team was accompanied by Coach Rosell. Other high school students and teachers will follow later in the day on the bus.

Water Is of Importance in Production of Eggs

A standard dozen of eggs weighs a pound and a half. About two-thirds of that weight is water. Maybe it is not unfair to say that it takes more water than it does feed to produce a dozen eggs. This much is certain—a flock of hens in good production will soon more quickly if you take away the water than if you take away the feed. A lot of hens do not lay enough eggs simply because they do not get all the water they ought to drink. It takes a lot of it and during cold weather it pays to warm the water to take the chill from it.—Dr. L. E. Card, University of Illinois.

Quality Steers Respond Better to Long Feeding

Inexperienced cattle breeders should remember that plain cheap steers that have had a short feed on corn, sell about as well as good quality steers during the spring months of the year, and plain thin steers can always be purchased cheaper than quality steers. The quality steer will, however, respond better to a long feed and will sell better than the long fed plain

FIVE RING CHAMPS TO PASS IN 1924

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Jan. 11.—Several young men who were sitting high and hand some this time last year as ring champions are now members in good standing of that widely represented "Once Was" club.

Several of the young men who are now out in front have been proposed for membership in the "Has Beens" and they'll be eligible for admission before another year rolls around.

If for no other reason than there is a potent law of average that does tricks, five and maybe more champions will pass out in 1924.

This is only a guess, and it's not worth more than any guess.

Five world's champions slipped away in 1923 and the same number are dangerously near the slide this year, because they seem to lack the class to hold them up against stiff competition.

Jack Dempsey, Benny Leonard and Mickey Walker will not lose their titles this year.

Dempsey and Leonard are too good to be in danger from any opponent they may have to meet, and Walker is safe because he will not take a chance.

Mike McTigue is sure to lose the light-heavyweight championship the first time he meets a good contender.

Harry Greb is slipping and he will have more trouble making the middleweight limit as he grows older.

Johnny Dundee will lose the featherweight championship because he has gone back greatly and age is beginning to show on him.

Joe Lynch, the worst of all the title holders, will lose the bantamweight championship, if he can be forced to meet a good contender.

Pancho Villa will drop the flyweight championship because he is getting too heavy for the class and he is none too safe as he is now.

Dempsey will not defend his title more than two times because the purses that he would receive in three big fights would put him in a class in the income tax law where he would have to turn over to the government practically all of the purse of his third fight.

It was this little tax difficulty that forced Dempsey to call off the year's activity last year after the Firpo fight.

Cattle Lice Are Very Expensive as Boarders

Coal Tar Dips and Sprays Used With Success.

Why spend money on valuable cattle feed to nourish lice?

During this season of the year, according to Prof. J. W. Bartlett, animal husbandman of the New Jersey Agricultural college, cattle are often affected with lice, young stock being most susceptible, though milk cows are not exempt. The so-called "Blue Louse" is the one commonly found. Being a blood-sucking and not a biting insect, it not only hinders growth and prevents thriftiness, but causes a mange and loss of hair.

At such a time as this it is very expensive to waste any feed, and when one considers the amount of food material that these insects must consume through the blood, it is easily seen how greatly they increase the cost of milk production.

Coal-tar dips and sprays may be used with success, but where there are not too many animals affected, kerosene and lard mixed according to the following formula will serve the purpose.

Mix half pint of kerosene warmed in hot water with one pound of melted lard and apply along the animal's back and neck. If the hair is long the back of the animal should be clipped.

Another means of eradicating lice is by the Kentucky-Black Leaf 40 method. The following formula is recommended:

1 pint Black Leaf 40 to 56 gallons of water, or ½ pint Black Leaf 40 to 43 gallons of water, or ¼ pint Black Leaf 40 to 21 gallons of water.

Apply with brush along back and neck.

KANE TELLS TEX TOM WILL TAKE THEM ALL ALIKE

New York, Jan. 11.—Tommy Gibbons is ready to eliminate all obstructions in the path of his chase after Jack Dempsey for another shot at the heavyweight championship. Eddie Kane, manager of the St. Paul boxer, arrived here and had a talk with Tex Rickard in hopes of arranging some sort of a row for Thomas shortly. The conference did not get anywhere, however, and they are going to try to agree on some plan or other today.

Following his talk with the big promoter, the boss of the Gibbons interests declared Tommy stood ready to take them all alike. The candidates mentioned by Kane include Gene Tunney, Jack Renault, Mike McTigue and Georges Carpentier. Gibbons is willing to meet them one after another in Madison Square Garden, but he chiefly wants another try at Jack Dempsey.
